Thank you for your email of 10 September 2025 to Fire and Emergency New Zealand requesting information relating to fire truck certifications. Your request has been considered under the Official Information Act 1982 (OIA). We copy and respond to it below.

1. When you purchase a new fire truck do you require any certification from the maker?
2. If so, may I have details covered by the certification?

We can advise that when we purchase a new fire truck our requirements are set out in tender documents and contracts. These requirements can vary over time. Some aspects such as the supplier capability, capacity and experience are assessed during the tender evaluation and due diligence phases, and some aspects are contractual requirements. We generally require various warranties and insurance but no specific certification.

We trust that the information being provided is of assistance. If you require further information, please email officialinformationrequests@fireandemergency.nz

Please note that because of the identified public interest in the information that you have requested, we intend to publish this response (with your personal details removed) on our website.
